35 YEARS OF PROCUREMENT & SUPPLIES EXPERIENCE

Esteemetal operates from Dubai-UAE as a trusted and professional trade supplier of steel, metals, ferro-alloys, and industrial raw materials, such as coal, etc.

The company is headed by a trade professional with 35 years of success in the business domain of industrial supplies and procurement.

Our key focus is constant availability and effective logistics of metal products from the most distant corners of the world to our clients situated across continents.

Our distinct positioning as your preferred procurement partner is derived from our professional competence and excellence in multiple areas.

Trust & Commitment Be it with our suppliers or our valued clients, this remains as the core characteristic of everything we do. Over the span of 35 years our CEO has upheld these values and now, Esteemetal extends this to the procurement advantage of our clients.

Trade Relationships We have direct working relationship hence buy directly from the producers, manufacturers or distribution companies. Similarly for certain products and commodities we act as authorized sales agent for some of the top steel and metal producers in different parts of the world.

Dependable Network In certain areas we have professional and experienced agents who provide technical and professional hands-on support in respective countries for client specific needs and requirements.

Trade Finance Successful Industrial procurements require in-depth understanding of various financial tools available in international markets. We have established business relationship with various banks of international repute and we are well placed to structure business deals according to the project needs and dynamics.

Logistics In-depth knowledge, understanding and sound experience of handling near or far, big and large, single or multi-modal, containerized or break-bulk shipping including chartering vessels is key to accomplishing industrial requirement and we have commendable experience in such an important area of procurement.

Customer Focus In any business scenario, customer needs and satisfaction carry prime importance to foster economic harmony for all the involved parties. While we clearly understand this factor, we place it very well too.
